

Ann F. Smith
CEO, Blue Fox Solutions, Inc.

Ann brings many years of experience in the corporate world working in operations and sales support management and in public relations to the firm.

Ann also has experience with the regional accreditation processes for higher education. She recently coached a two-year college through their self-study process, and helped them to achieve the reaffirmation of their accreditation.

She is an experienced college faculty member and is certified in the facilitation of individual and organizational leadership development programs for both youth and adults. She is a graduate of numerous programs in curriculum and instruction, leadership, and management. She achieved certification in adult education instruction in the state of Louisiana.

She was a certified financial advisor and a licensed Notary Public in Louisiana.

Ann has a Master's degree in Public Administration from the University of New Orleans.